

YOUR CAR IS BEING TRACKED IN NEW HANOVER COUNTY

AI cameras scan every driver — no warrant, no consent, no way to opt out.

THE FACTS

- The Sheriff's Office runs a network of Flock AI license-plate cameras that photograph every passing car and log its plate, location, time, make, model, and color.
- It's collected on everyone — whether or not you're suspected of anything. No warrant. No way to opt out.
- Cost: about $219,000 a year (Contract #25-0364). No public vote — the Sheriff signed it; the Commissioners fund it.
- The county's network was searched nearly 3 million times in about 16 months — and the name of every searching agency and officer was redacted.
- Agencies far outside North Carolina — Houston, Dallas, Memphis and more — have run tens of thousands of searches on NC Flock data.
- The good news: the county can cancel the contract at any time, without cause.

WHY IT MATTERS

No warrant. Your movement history can be pulled without a judge.

No accountability. The county won't say who's searching your data.

Real harm. Camera misreads have led to wrongful arrests of North Carolina residents.
